To Whom It May Concern:

I want to share with you a wonderful opportunity that we have discovered to save money on your telecommunication expenses.

The Georgia Baptist Children's Home & Families Ministries recently engaged Mr. Jeff Davis of RMH Telecom Consultants to review our telecommunications network. After our first contact, we provided all the information requested for review, which required no outlay of money on our part.

We were kept informed throughout the entire process and were presented with a detailed report of their recommendations. The independent review resulted in a savings in excess of $22,000 per year, which equated to a 23% reduction in our annual telecommunications expenditures.

Based on the results achieved, I would highly recommend Mr. Davis and RMH Telecom for any agency that is interested in reducing their overall telecommunications expenses. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Kenneth M. Dobbs, D.Min.
