To whom it may concern:

Jim Robinson Chevrolet, Cadillac, and Oldsmobile is pleased to recommend the services of RMH Telecommunications Consultants. Dean Kelly of RMH Telecom Consultants did a thorough review of our telecommunications services and identified savings opportunities that reduced our annual total telecom spend by over $40,000, which was more than 25% of the total. This review included a detailed analysis of our local services, long distance, cellular and data services. The review resulted in the elimination of a number of services that were not being used in the local service and data areas and also produced some refunds from the providers. RMH Telecom Consultants' recommendations related to our ongoing services resulted in savings in all of the above categories as well.

In addition to the services provided above, we have engaged RMH Telecom Consultants to coordinate the consolidation of the local service and data billing from a total of thirty-three monthly invoices to two invoices. We look forward to the completion of this process, as it will substantially reduce the time associated with telecommunications administration.

Based on the results achieved, we highly recommend RMH Telecom Consultants to any business interested in reducing their telecom expenses.

Yours Truly,

James G. Robinson
President
